Examination Before Marriage. From the Atlanta Constitution.

A bill, which contains the wisdom of a race of Solomons, is now pending in the Colorado legislature. It is one making physical examination before marriage compulsory, and the issuance of marriage licenses conditional on a good percentage made by both applicants. The provisions of the Colorado bill are very simple. An examining board, to ture caused both the current fall and consist of physicians of different schools, is to be created in each county, and be- parison of current reports with data for fore this board must go all applicants for licenses. The people of Colorado, more points shows that at altitudes ranging than those of any other state, have had from 7,500 to 10,000 feet the depth at their attention called to the necessity for the close of January was only onesuch an arrangement by the fact that the fourth to one-half as much as on the thousands of consumptives who flock corresponding date last year, and that in there annually for relief frequently con- the vicinity of timber line it ranged tract marriages which eventuate disas. from one-third to two-thirds of last trously.
